DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's arguments filed on 9/10/01 (paper #9) have been fully considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 1-6, 8-13, and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kubo et al. (Kubo).

Kubo discloses in Figures 2, 4 and columns 16-22, an image reading method and apparatus for reading an original image by prescan, setting reading conditions and performing fine scan, analyzing both data of a preset area or the trimming area of the original image for both the prescanned data and the fine scanned data, calculating a correction condition and processing the fine scanned data. Kubo also discloses image characteristic values of an average density.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2851

5. Claims 7, 14 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kubo et al. (Kubo) in view of Sakaguchi.

Kubo discloses the claimed invention as discussed above. Although Kubo does not disclose separate memory for first scan and second scan data, Kubo's invention does store data from different scans. However, Kubo does not disclose using the prescanned and fine scanned data to calculate correction data for dark and shading correction. Sakaguchi discloses an image reading method and apparatus for reading an original image by prescanning and fine scanning which used the data for dark correction and shading correction. Therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the method of using the data for dark and shading correction to the invention of Kubo in view of Sakaguchi in order to provide plurality of prints from a plurality of images without deterioration of the images.

Remarks

6. Applicant argues that the correction of the fine scan data in Kubo is based only on the first scan data. Kubo uses both the first scan data and the second scan data since in order to make the correction to the fine scan or the second scan data, the second scan data has to be used.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 2851

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
